Song 5 God's Mercy Endures Forever

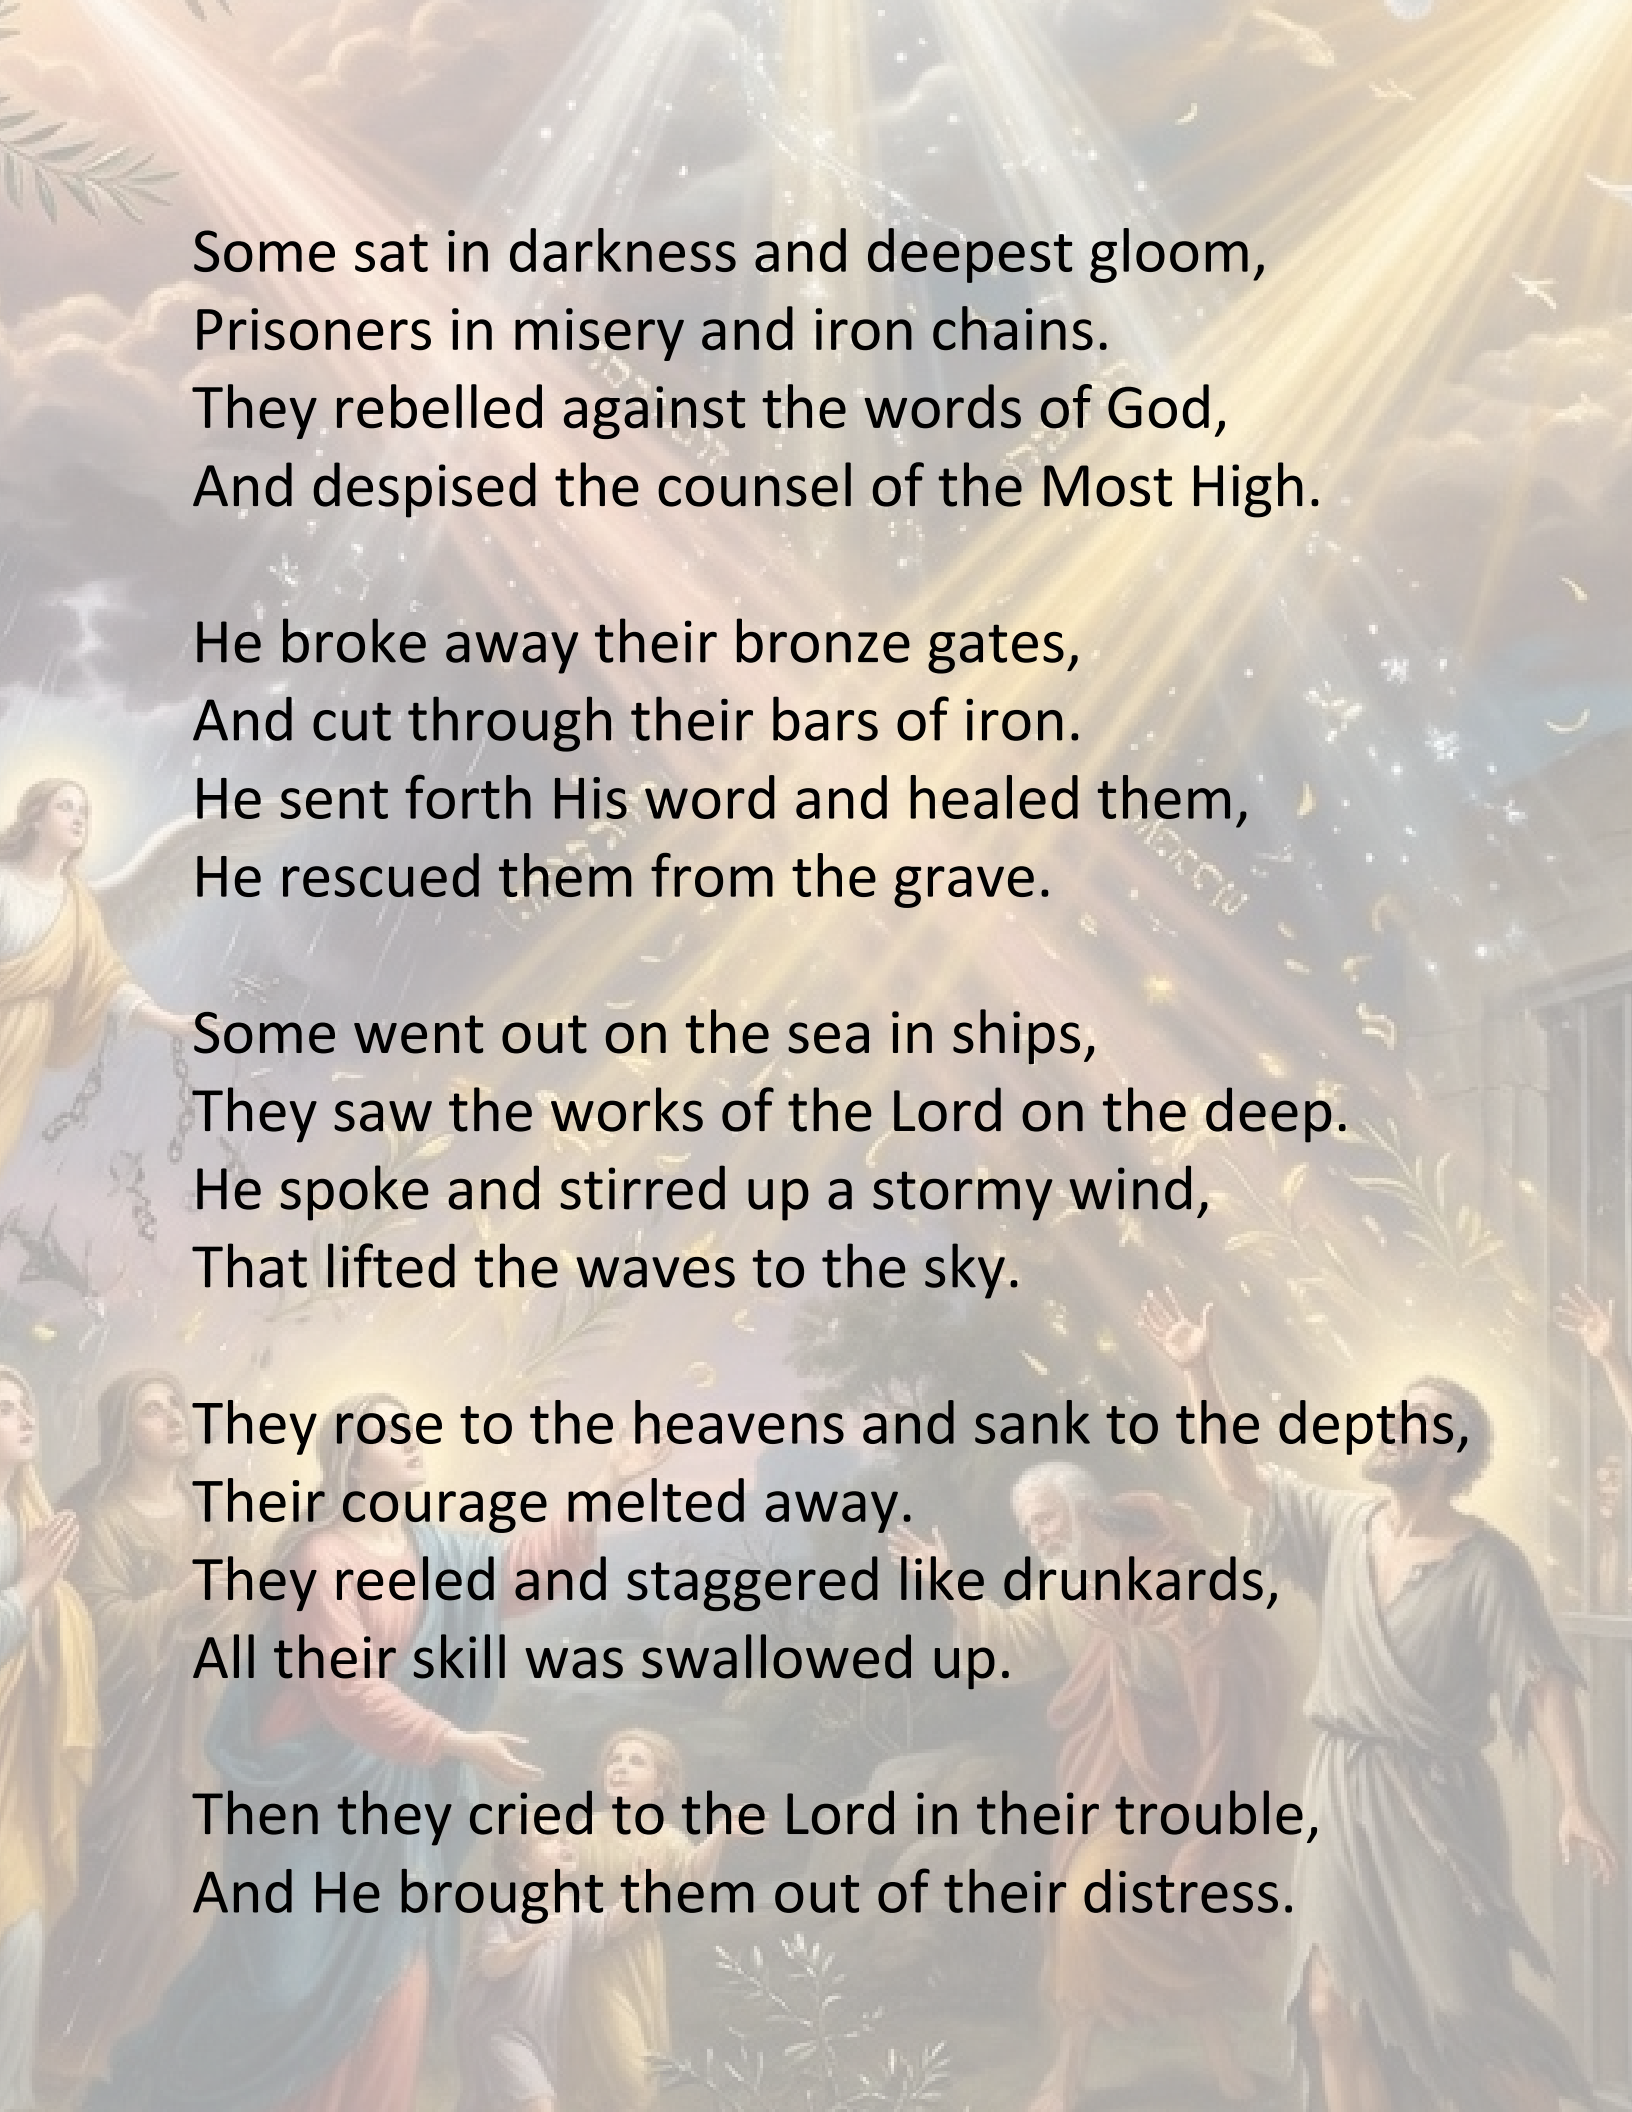
Psalm 107 – Four pictures of redemption (lost in desert, darkness, storm, prison). Each ends with "Oh, that men would give thanks to the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men!"

Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good,
His mercy endures forever.

Let the redeemed of the Lord say so,
Those He gathered from every land —
From east and west, from north and south,
From every nation, by His hand.

Some wandered in desert wastelands,
Hungry and thirsty, their souls faint.
They cried to the Lord in their trouble,
And He delivered them from their constraint.

He led them by a straight way,
To a city where they could settle.
He satisfied the thirsty soul,
And filled the hungry with good things.



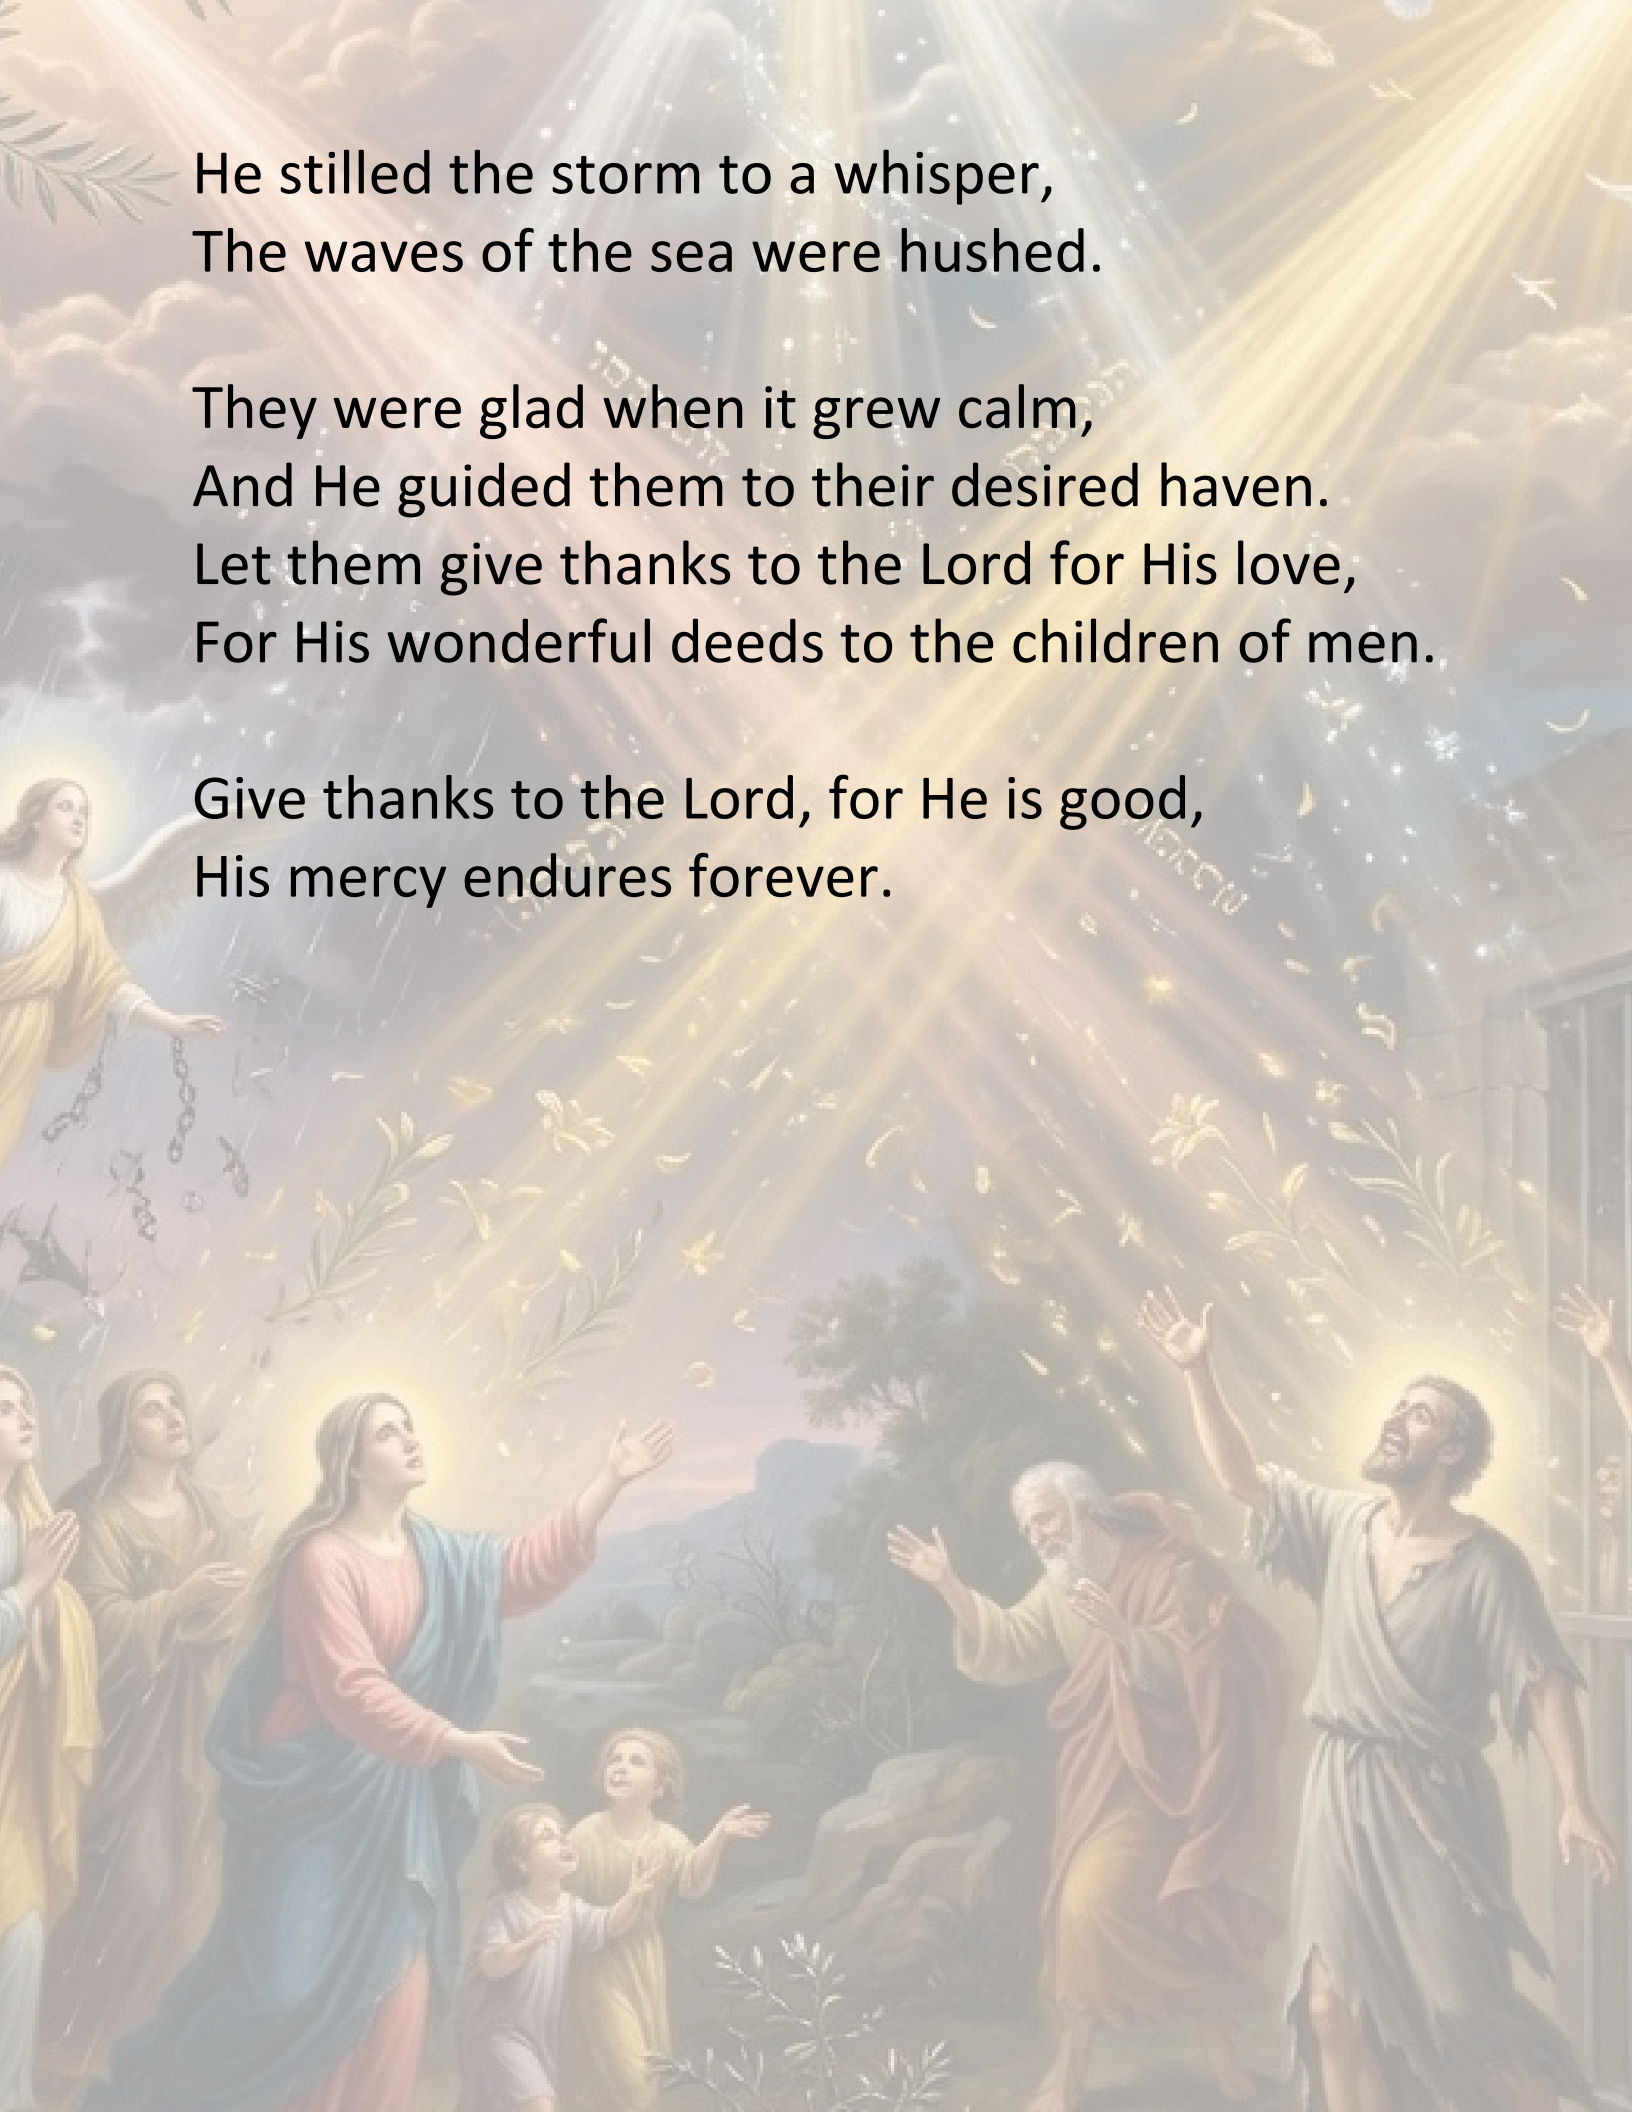
Some sat in darkness and deepest gloom,
Prisoners in misery and iron chains.
They rebelled against the words of God,
And despised the counsel of the Most High.

He broke away their bronze gates,
And cut through their bars of iron.
He sent forth His word and healed them,
He rescued them from the grave.

Some went out on the sea in ships,
They saw the works of the Lord on the deep.
He spoke and stirred up a stormy wind,
That lifted the waves to the sky.

They rose to the heavens and sank to the depths,
Their courage melted away.
They reeled and staggered like drunkards,
All their skill was swallowed up.

Then they cried to the Lord in their trouble,
And He brought them out of their distress.



He stilled the storm to a whisper,
The waves of the sea were hushed.

They were glad when it grew calm,
And He guided them to their desired haven.
Let them give thanks to the Lord for His love,
For His wonderful deeds to the children of men.

Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good,
His mercy endures forever.
